

Adoption and Implementation of the Technical Specification ISO TS 22003 for Food Safety Management Systems' Certification Bodies

ESYD decided the adoption and implementation of the Technical Specification ISO_TS_22003 (First Edition 15.02.2007) for the Certification Bodies according to EN ISO 22000, that will apply to ESYD for accreditation in this field against EN 45012 or EN ISO/IEC 17021 after October 1st, 2007. For all other cases, the implementation of ISO_TS_22003 will be assessed during the next surveillance visit.

Guideline ESYD KO-22000 will still be applicable:

- a) for Bodies which are actually following the transition procedure (from the standard ELOT 1416 to EN ISO 22000) or shall start following the transition procedure, until 30.09.2007,*
- b) for Bodies, not accredited by ESYD against the standard ELOT 1416, which will apply for accreditation until 30.09.2007.*
